The same link also provides a frame plan, which allows you to preview in advance the location of different classes in the exhibition hall and the position of individual exhibits on the frame numbers.

The exhibition catalog will be published in April 2026. It contains the same exhibit list and a short description of each exhibit in English. The exhibition catalog also includes a lot of practical information about the exhibition venue, schedules, program, and various events.

On the website, there is a link through which exhibitors can submit a digital version of their exhibit to the jury by April 12, 2026.
